PROGRAMME STRUCTURE

This is structured to enhance your knowledge in Estate Planning relating to Wealth, Business Succession and Philanthropy for the HNWI and UHNWI Client. It delves into specific solutions that can be used to address the different needs of these clientele. The trainer is a senior and qualified practitioner who is experienced and passionate in Estate Planning.

PURPOSE OF PROGRAMME

According to a report by Statista, there were approximately 3,700 ultra high net worth individuals (UHNWI) residing in Singapore in the year 2020. This was projected to grow to approximately 4,890 in 2025. On the other hand, the millionaire population in Singapore was approximately 244,000 in 2020 and is projected to grow to approximately 388,000 in 2025. This projected growth in the millionaire population indicates the trend of increasing household wealth in Singapore, which grew by more than 146% since the year 2000. Within the next 20 years, we will see the largest wealth transfer in history as Baby Boomers pass on their wealth to the next generation. For Financial advisers who are serving or intend to service these HNWI and UHNWI, not only do you need to be equipped to understand their values, desires and expectations; more importantly you need to be aware of what solutions you can offer to these group of clientele.

Aside from helping protect individuals, families, and businesses from risks; wealth and business succession have increasingly taken a critical role in wealth management aspect. This is especially evident in Asia, which is the region with the highest growth in HNWI and UHNWIs. With this expansion, insurance solutions catered to the rapid growth of HNWI and UHNWIs has gained increasing traction and attributed to the business volume of financial practitioners, wealth managers and private bankers. Many of these wealthy individuals need customized solutions to address their unique values, circumstances and requirements.

The trainer will compare traditional insurance uses and introduce insurance solutions commonly used by wealthy individuals for succession planning, business continuity, estate tax planning and philanthropy. Participants can look forward to in depth discussion of the features and advantages of using Universal Life as part of the portfolio and deep dive into whether to hold it as an individual or to set up a family trust to hold the policy. While Universal Life is more complex than a traditional insurance, it is commonly used by HNWI and UHNMI to maximize their accumulated wealth to leave a legacy.

Naturally, Universal Life is not the only option to leave a legacy. Private Placement Life Insurance (PPLI) has been widely used in Europe and US, however, has not been extensively used in Asia. PPLI is essentially an insurance policy but is not meant for everybody. It primarily targets at HNWIs and UHNWIs. The trainer will share the use of PPLI as an estate planning tool which allows the policyholder to transfer valued assets as premium. The key benefits and limitations of using PPLI will be discussed to give participants a better understanding of family insurance for HNWIs and UHNWIs.

The trainer will highlight the use of family investment fund and the advantages and structures that can be set up. In particular, participants will learn the variable capital company (VCC) structure to complement existing suite of investment fund structure. The VCC is a new corporate structure for investment funds constituted under the Variable Capital Companies Act which took effect on 14 Jan 2020. The trainer will share the common uses of VCC, what advantages entail the use of VCC and how ownership and assets can be held under a VCC structure as well as the associated tax implications.

According to The Business Times in Oct 2020, Senior Minister Tharman Shanmugaratnam said that the number of single family offices in Singapore has grown and is standing at about 200. With the growth in the number of HNWIs and UHNWIs in Asia, Singapore has increasingly been the preferred country to set up family offices (FO) due to its available structure and government incentives. Many of these families rely on the FO to promote community and family unity while preserving the family's assets. The trainer will engage the participants in understanding the rationale of setting up a FO. There will be active sharing of the considerations and advantages of setting up FO in different countries. The discussion will explore the tax implications, types of investments parked under the FO, the types and structures of an FO. Further discussion will include the advantages, disadvantages of setting up the FO, the functions and decision making mechanism.

While charity involves giving immediate relief to people driven mainly by emotions and for a good cause; philanthropy involves a more sustained giving of one's time, money, experience, skills or talent over a long term. Even though anyone can be a philanthropist, the growth in wealth and disposable income among the HNWIs and UHNWIs have certainly propelled this movement. The trainer will bring in real life cases of famous philanthropist to showcase and explained the sources and basis of philanthropy. Participants will be brought through the goals behind family philanthropy, the design and structure of family charity and the structure and operation and service model of family charity.

The programme combines a mix of knowledge based yet practical training highlighting the latest trend in providing unique solutions to the HNWI and UHNWI wealth, business succession planning and philanthropy values. Half a day will be devoted to in-depth discussion on case studies to allow participants to apply the concepts learnt and to engage in a meaningful exchange of ideas where they contribute more ideas and perspective from dissecting each case study.
